Minden Hills CAO takes on top job at Dysart et al

by Jerry Grozelle

Minden's loss will be Dysart's gain when Minden Hills Chief Administrative Officer Tammy McKelvey joins the staff at Dysart.

McKelvey started with the Township of Anson, Hindon and Minden in 1980 as the Secretary-Receptionist. After several years at that position, she joined the staff of Somerville Township as Clerk-Treasurer. Two and a half later, in 1991, McKelvey returned to Anson, Hindon and Minden and served as Clerk-Treasurer and Tax Collector.

With the amalgamation of Snowdon, Lutterworth and Anson, Hindon and Minden at the first of this year, McKelvey took over as CAO-Clerk of the newly formed Township of Minden Hills.

McKelvey will take over as the CAO Clerk-Treasurer of Dysart et al at the first of the new year. She will replace Donna McCallum, who is retiring.

"The biggest difficulty for me will be leaving the staff here in Minden," McKelvey said. "I'm excited about the opportunity and the new challenge. I'm looking forward to it."

She added that Dysart has an excellent staff.

McKelvey lives in Minden now, but her plans are to relocate to Dysart.

"I intend to move to Dysart to be closer to work and closer to the high school for our kids," she said. Daughter Chelsea is 14 and son Justin is 12.

Changing Times: Jack Brezina looks back on the past 22 years

by Jerry Grozelle

When you have been in the newspaper business as long as Jack Brezina has, you don't make the decision to move on to other challenges without considerable soul-searching.

For more than 22 years Brezina has been the publisher of The Times. On November 1, he turned over the reins to a new owner.

"It was with mixed feelings that I made the decision, after 22 years here," he said. "I may not be totally comfortable with that decision initially."

He admitted that even after cleaning out his office at The Times, the fact that he is no longer the publisher and owner of the paper hasn't really sunk in yet. Perhaps when he returns from his traditional week as cook at the Old Saw Hunt Camp and doesn't have to assume the responsibilities of publishing another paper the realization of his change in lifestyle will take effect.

What's in store for "The Bearded One" as his friend and colleague on the Health Services Board, the late Doug Campbell, fondly referred to him?

"What are you going to do?" has been a question he has been asked many times since he announced his intention to sell the newspaper.

True to his sense of humour, in many cases his initial answer has been, "clean the garage."

"My options are open," he said. "I may do some freelance writing, or I may explore the possibility of writing a book."

Brezina said he plans to spend more time with his family — wife Pat, daughter Kerry and son Kevin, although their daughter and son have left Minden and are living in Kitchener and Kingston, respectively.

The good news for the many friends the Brezinas have made in Minden and the surrounding area is that they have no plans to leave the area. "This is the longest I've been in one place," he said. "I may do some freelance writing, or I may explore the possibility of writing a book."

In 22-plus years as publisher of The Times, Brezina has seen thousands of stories printed in his paper. None sticks in his memory more than what he calls "the Skinhead Invasion" which occurred in Minden in 1989.

"We tried to put a positive spin on the story, focusing on human rights as opposed to what they stood for," he said. "It brought a lot of national exposure."

Over the years there have been a lot of positive stories, as well as some negative ones.

"It has not always been a bowl of cherries, but it's always been interesting," he said. "I enjoyed providing what I thought was a reasonably good newspaper for the community and our readers. It's been fun. It has allowed me to get up close to what's been happening in the community."

Haliburton Forest named Business of the Year 2001

by MARTHA PERKINS

As Peter Schleifenbaum says, it's quite flabbergasting when a forest is named Business of the Year.

But when that forest is Haliburton Forest and Wildlife Reserve, which attracts thousands of visitors to the Highlands every year, it's not surprising.

Yet the things that draw tens of thousands of people to Haliburton Forest – the wolf centre, canopy tour and new astrology facilities – are only a part of the 50,000 acres' essence. Haliburton Forest is very much a working forest and is a large contributor to the county's forestry industry.

The honour of being chosen as Business of the Year, Schleifenbaum said Thursday when he accepted the award on Thursday night at the annual Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce dinner at Wigamog, illustrates "there's more to Haliburton County than tourism."

"There's forestry, wildlife, art," he said, noting that he had business relationships with nearly every person in the room, whether it be political, artistic and business. "We have a lot in common. We call this God's country."

In accepting the award, he played upon the acceptance speeches at the Emmy awards. He thanked several people, pre-eminent among them his wife Elke. He called her "the heart behind our business. She really deserves more credit."

They also have a great cast to work with. "Haliburton Forest is not Peter Schleifenbaum. I may be the front man but I'm not the one making it successful."

Many staff members were unable to attend the ceremony because they were in Toronto promoting Haliburton Forest, which meant they were also promoting Haliburton County, he said.

In thanking the Chamber for the honour, he said "I'm looking forward to working with you for the next few decades."

Highlander of the Year 2001

Silver Flutes founder is Highlands' top citizen

Bill Medland praised for his work with youth marching band
by Highlands
Chamber of Commerce

by MARTHA PERKINS

Surprise, honour and a wave of intense pride washed across Bill Medland's face as his Silver Flutes band marched into Wigamog's dining room in musical salute to him as the new Highlander of the Year.

Medland, who founded the youth band in 1994 and still leads it today, was obviously overwhelmed by the tribute bestowed upon him by the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce on Thursday night.

"What a wonderful surprise. Wow," he said with emotion, returning to the podium after walking across the crowded room to thank band members personally. (The flute and drum band had entered the room playing a song written specifically for Medland and would later play a wife written in honour of his wife Donna.)

"I want to thank you very much for the honour," he told the 115 Chamber members and supporters, "but I get a lot of my kicks teaching these kids - they are fantastic. They make it easy."

Nominated by the Eagle Lake Women, Medland was beguiled into believing that he and his family - including his wife, son, daughter and brother-in-law - were at the dinner because the Chamber was making a funding announcement that would benefit the Silver Flutes.

It wasn't until Ruth Still read out his name as the 2001 Highlander of the Year that the Eagle Lake resident learned he had been hoodwinked. He thanked the ladies for the tribute.

Getting approximately 40 members of the band to the Wigamog without his knowing also required strategic skill and he thanked them for making such an effort on his behalf.

Thanks also went to the Trillium Foundation and Haliburton County Development Corporation for the grants that got the band started and a friendship with the Coleraine Fife and Drum Band in Silver Flute member * Reuben Maughan congratulates Bill Medland for being named Highlander of the Year at Thursday's Chamber of Commerce dinner at the Wigamog.

Ireland proved fortuitous when the Irish band donated thousands of dollars' worth of flutes to Medland. His old Derry Flute Band donated its old uniforms. Laidlaw bus company also gives the band good rates when they have to travel to a parade or event.

"Someone up there likes me," he smiled.

Medland said "our greatest export is our kids and I don't like that. I'd like to have them get a good job here."

He told the band members that he had been served by former band drummer Jesse Boughner "and he had his shoes polished too. He still let his shirttail out a little bit but I'll work on that," he said, referring to the values of pride and decorum he teaches as well as the music.

In closing, he told the Chamber "this is definitely an honour and I will continue the tradition."

Emcee Curtis Eastmure extended the Chamber's thanks to Medland, calling the Silver Flutes "a Highlands institution created by Bill Medland."

The following is the speech Ruth Still made when introducing Medland as the Highlander of the Year.

Members of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce and Guests,

It gives me great pleasure on behalf of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce to make this presentation of the Highlander of the Year award to one of our own, from the Rhubarb Capital, Eagle Lake, Bill Medland.

In 1994 on the retirement of Bill and Donna Medland to Eagle Lake from Toronto, Bill immediately started the Haliburton Highlands Silver Flute Band. he was not without experience as years ago Bill's parents on Degrassi Street had enrolled him at the tender age of nine in a local flute band to get him off the street. So began his love of the instrument and by 1969 he was nominated the bandmaster of The Derry Flute Band in Toronto.

This fortunate Irish connection led to a lasting friendship and exchange of engagements with the Coleraine Fife and Drum band of Ireland. This hospitable group, upon receiving funds from the Irish government for new instruments and uniforms, passed their used ones on to Bill for use by his Haliburton group.

Bill's dedication to this group is undeniable, every Monday and Tuesday after school he teaches beginners how to play the flute or a drum, their choice. Thursday night is reserved for band practice at St. Georges Anglican Church. No one wanting to play an instrument is ever turned away even if it means altering an instrument to enable a handicapped child to perform. And then there is transportation to be arranged for these students so no one is ever without.

The culmination of this is of course the band's participation in parades: Oktoberfest in Kitchener, Santa Claus Parades in Toronto, Newmarket, Keswick, Minden, Rotary in Haliburton, Wilberforce in July to name some major ones.

Every year there is an exchange between some of the Highlands Silver Flutes and the Toronto Derry Band group. A first opportunity for most of these young people of Haliburton to see the big city.

In short, Bill through his unstinting efforts has become a major influence for progress on many of the youth of Haliburton County.

Times owner now has more time to dedicate to his many community projects

Much of Jack Brezina's free time is shared with the community in the form of his volunteer work.

He has been a member of the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Board since its inception. He has served on many of its committees and is currently the Board's chair.

"We have exciting new facilities, new services and a new CEO coming in the new year," Brezina said. "I think the community appreciates what's happening there and I'm happy to be a part of it."

Brezina is also a Highlands Festival volunteer and has served as its president. He is currently co-ordinating the Festival's publicity and promotion, working on the program, preparing press releases and putting his photography talents to good use.

One of the occupations Brezina tried before he settled in the newspaper business was working as a disc jockey for a radio station. With the establishment of a community radio station in Haliburton Brezina hinted that he might, now that has more free time, be interested in becoming involved in that project in some capacity.

Brezina said he will miss the daily interaction with the people who have worked for, and with, him. He also said he will miss the order to his life that the deadlines associated with newspaper production necessitate. He won't miss working until midnight or later Friday and Saturday nights putting the paper together so it could be taken to the printer on Sundays.

More roads added to Minden Hills winter maintenance schedule: council

by Cathy Olliffe

More Minden Hills roads will be maintained this winter.

At an Oct. 25 council meeting, the township's roads superintendent, Kevin Hill, was given the green light to have his department add four more roads to its busy plowing and sanding schedule.

Sections not currently winter maintained on Maple Rd., Sandy Bay Rd., East Moore Lake Rd. and Lutterworth Park will be looked after this winter – if not by township plows and sanders then by private operators tendered by the township.

Hill told councillors the roads department is already extremely busy. "We're to the point where our people are almost at overtime just to get the work done they have already."

The almost daily rainfall is taking its toll too. "I'm behind with the weather and everything else," Hill said. "Something's going to suffer."

Councillors, in particular Ingram Wessell, have expressed a desire to maintain many more township roads all winter long. Wessell, who owns a contracting business, said he will not be bidding on any of the new plowing jobs.

Councillor Peter Oyler declared a conflict of interest in the matter, not taking part in discussion or voting because he lives on one of the roads that will be maintained this year. In the past he (along with other residents) has paid to have Maple Rd. plowed and he figured it would save him a few hundred dollars if the township took over winter maintenance.

The Haliburton Highlands is located 2 hours Northeast of Toronto, bordering Algonquin Park. The area is breathtakingly beautiful and known for the White Water Preserve (a world class kayaking course), the Haliburton School of The Arts, many art galleries, a live theatre troupe, Nordic and downhill skiing, and some of the most extensive trail systems in Ontario.

A $20 million capital redevelopment has resulted in two new, ultra-modern facilities in Minden and Haliburton that provides an integrated continuum of ambulatory, emergency, acute, rehabilitation, mental health, primary care and significant long-term care service for the 60,000 seasonal and permanent residents in this region. TD bank donates $1,000 to SIRCH for children's programs

TD Canada Trust reinforced its commitment to the Haliburton Highlands by making a donation of $1,000 to SIRCH Community Services to be directed to children's programs.

"TD and Canada Trust have officially come together under the brand TD Canada Trust. We want to mark the occasion and demonstrate our continued support to the Haliburton Highlands," said Joanne Camelon, branch manager. "With this donation, we hope to ensure (young) people in our community will continue to benefit from the programs offered by SIRCH."

TD Canada Trust has been a part of the Haliburton Highlands community for the past 23 years.

"We are thrilled to have the continued support of TD Canada Trust," said SIRCH Executive Director Gena Robertson. "This donation will help us offer programs and resources to increase learning readiness skills in pre-schoolers (such as School's Cool courses, Early Steps kits for parents or parent-child workshops). We are so appreciative of this donation!"

The Times, we are a changin'

Editorial

Change is a word that strikes fear in the hearts of some.

Here at The Times, when the employees of Publisher/Editor Jack Brezina learned more than a year ago that Jack was exploring the possibility of selling the newspaper, the news was not welcomed. Only those who have been fortunate enough to have worked for and with Jack Brezina could understand the loyalty we share for the man.

Fast forward to the spring of 2001. The announcement was made that negotiations were under way with potential buyers. One in particular seemed very serious. Jack was tight-lipped about who the potential new owners might be, saying only that he'd been contacted by more than one interested party.

Speculation, not only within The Times family, but throughout Haliburton County and beyond, ran wild. Was it a big chain? Was it the Echo? It seemed everybody who reads The Times had heard rumours of one sort or another.

A couple of months later, to the surprise of few, Jack announced that he had been negotiating with Haliburton County Echo Publisher Len Pizzezy and that we should be prepared for the deal to close within a matter of a few weeks.

A few weeks passed and during a meeting with staff, Jack explained that the negotiations had broken off and, for the time being, it would be business as usual. Then, in October, another meeting was held and Jack announced that the paper was sold and the new owner was Len Pizzezy.

And so, we are faced with change. A new employer, with new ideas, was a prospect that a couple of the staff members have decided were changes they weren't willing to accept. Office manager Susan Beers, who has been with The Times since before Jack bought it more than 22 years ago, has decided to retire. Her jovial greetings to all who came into the office and her Scottish accent will be missed by more than the staff members who remain. She has agreed to remain for a few weeks to help with the transition.

Although Jack and Susan won't be here among The Times family at the office, the good news is that they both plan to remain in the community.

Apprehension felt by some about the sale of The Times to the competition is quickly disappearing. Meetings with Len have been informative and affable. He has outlined his plans and visions for the future of The Times and it appears we are in for some exciting times ahead.

Len is very enthusiastic in his plans to mold The Times into an even more successful community newspaper than it already is. That enthusiasm is contagious. The Times will continue to be the voice of Minden and this end of Haliburton County. It will keep and enhance its local flavour. The challenge will be to produce two quality newspapers in Haliburton County, each with its own separate and distinct identity so readers will want buy both The Times and The Echo. To that end, we welcome constructive input.

Although we may often be resistant to it, change can have its positive attributes. As long as we are able to focus on the positive, our goals can be realized.

Medical staff, facilities appreciated

Editor,

Along the road of life there are many little (some not so little) bumps and obstacles which we must face. In the past few weeks, I met with some very unexpected ones. My two heart attacks have certainly given me a reality check and have altered my priorities in life.

The fact that I am still here to write this letter can be attributed to a number of factors and people.

First, I wish to thank the medical staff at Toronto General, Ross Memorial and Minden hospitals. Words cannot express my thanks to these people. Their dedication to their work, their quiet manner, their professionalism and their expertise are of the highest order. We are very fortunate to have the hospital here in Minden (Without which I am certain that I would not be here today) and the quality of people who work there.

I also must thank the ambulance drivers who transported me on three occasions to medical facilities. They were great.

To the many people who called and/or sent cards, thank you. They have all been greatly appreciated and have certainly assisted my recovery process, which still has a ways to go.

Finally, from the way the events from the past few weeks have taken place, I am certain the Lord was directing my path.

Again, words cannot fully express my gratitude to everyone, especially the medical personnel we are so fortunate to have in our area.

Gareth Kellett

This is a letter of thanks. I would like to thank the construction crew working on the new highway through Minden.

An end and a beginning

by Len Pizze

Shaking hands with Jack Brezina as he left the Times office last Wednesday was a moment fraught with emotion and portent. For each of us, the gesture symbolized both an end and a beginning. Jack was saying goodbye to a business that had consumed much of his waking life for almost 23 years. Community newspaper publishing tests the core of one's heart and mind in ways that few other occupations can. It is more than just a way to make a living; it is a passion and a calling, invoking joy and anguish, elation and self doubt.

Though the words were left unsaid, that understanding had always been part of our relationship as keen but cordial competitors. Although our newspapers were different in appearance and focus, our purpose was the same -- to reflect the life of the community in all its aspects.

Jack could look back with satisfaction on his accomplishments at the Times, and ahead to the opportunities that his 'retirement' would bring. So too, I had much to remember and much to anticipate. Our careers had been parallel. I came to the Highlands in 1978 to be editor of The Echo, and was fortunate to be given the chance to purchase the newspaper 1985. Jack bought The Times in 1979, enduring many challenging years as he strived to make the business grow and prosper. Over the years we watched each other's progress with more than passing interest, since we were competing for advertising dollars and reader loyalty. Yet our competition was always fair-minded and courteous. Our costs of doing business were essentially equal. Neither of us could afford to engage in predacious price wars that community newspaper conglomerates have been known to use to put their competitors out of business. At the same time, we had to provide value and keep our prices in line with the realities of the local economy, even if that imposed constraints on capital investment and wage scales that neither of us relished.

We shared a keen interest in the arts -- Jack as a supporter of amateur theatre, I as a contributor to the Northern Lights Pavilion, the Yamaha grand piano, and sponsor of the Haliburton Highlands Music Festival.

Whenever we saw each other at community events, we would exchange polite small talk, knowing that our business challenges and plans were not a topic to broach.

Over the years, I never imagined that I would someday have a chance to purchase the Times. But when Jack made it known the newspaper was for sale, it seemed logical to explore the opportunity. Negotiations were lengthy, tinged with the inevitable emotions of our shared passion and our long-standing competition. Last Wednesday's handshake was the final, irrevocable conclusion of that process.

Assuming responsibility for the Times is both humbling and exciting. Community newspapers are businesses which must generate more revenue than they spend, but there is more to them than the unavoidable reality of the ratios of income and the myriad categories of expenses. They are an expression of the very notion of community. They enable people who share a common geographical place, common values and common interests, to connect with each other, to share ideas and experiences. The underlying purpose of community newspaper should always be positive, even if the thoughts it expresses are sometimes critical, and some the events it covers and the issues it explores are unpleasant. Those who want mere boosterism will not find it on these pages. Instead, readers should expect a package of information that week after week, year after year, expresses respect for individual and collective achievement, supporting what is right and honourable and just.

Like Jack Brezina, I have a passion for community newspapers that is deeply felt but difficult to express.

The immediate challenge of creating and publishing The Times in week one following Jack's departure has been met. In the near future we plan changes that we hope the community and our readers will view as positive. We are investing in new technology to allow the Times to be produced entirely electronically. Once that is in place and the staff have had a chance to become familiar with its potential, we will undertake a modest redesign of the newspaper, though its essence will remain the same.

We are hiring an additional reporter for The Times, and will focus our energies on the editorial content, especially on more feature stories. Ultimately I hope that my enthusiasm for community newspapers, and for the Highlands, will serve The Times, its staff and its readers, well.

One era ends and another begins. I look forward to the challenge, and to hearing your thoughts and ideas.

Fire away!

Well, the forest fire season is finally winding down. The fall rains are, for the most part, snuffing out whatever's still smoldering and before long most of Canada's vast boreal forests will be snuggled under a flameproof blanket of white stuff. Forest firefighters will finally be able to take off their boots and relax for a spell.

No doubt they'll spend some time shaking their heads over the kind of fire season they've just been through. It wasn't the worst on record, but it did throw up a brand new enemy, particularly for the pilots of water-bombers.

Boaters.

And I'm not talking about a couple of old duffers out flycasting from a dory in the middle of a lake. I'm talking about the newest water sport: boaters who drag race with the water-bombers.

It sounds insane, but it's true. Water-bomber pilots are reporting increasing numbers of boaters who come, like cluster flies, every time a bomber descends to scoop water from a lake.

It's a game that's unbelievably stupid and potentially disastrous. When a water-bomber makes a run to pick up water, it skims the lake surface at speeds upwards of 120 kilometres per hour. The pilot must have at least a kilometre of open, unobstructed water.

"Once we make a commitment and start scooping, we can't avoid anything," says Neil Ayers, a pilot with the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources. "It's like driving a Mack truck down a highway. That airplane is going in one direction, and that's straight ahead."

Don't even think about what happens when several hundred tons of water-laden bomber T-bones a fibreglass CrisCraft at 120 kph.

You'd think anyone with the mental capacity to pull a starter cord could figure out that drag racing water-bombers is about as smart as juggling live grenades. But you'd be wrong. Several pilots this year have reported "coming within a few metres" of smashing into the fools.

If it was just a case of obliterating the idiot boater, I'd write it off as a demonstration of Darwinism in action, but there's every chance the pilot might get killed as well.

Events like this remind us that not everyone who takes their recreation in the wilderness does so with the consciousness of Grey Owl or Ernest Thompson Seton.

But there is such a thing as Divine Revenge. I'm reminded of the story I heard about a confrontation between a northern Ontario park official and a couple of hunters from Toronto. The official came across these two in the bush, sitting around a blazing campfire. At the height of the forest fire season. He explained that all fires were banned. The hunters shrugged, threw a pail of water on the fire, and waited for him to leave.

The next day the MNR guy came back, attracted by a plume of smoke. He asked them once more to douse the fire. Three times he had to visit the campsite; each time there was a fire burning. Exasperated, he called up his supervisor. "Leave it with me" said the boss. "I'll make sure the fire's out"

And not too much later, the hunters looked up from their campfire to see a fully-laden water bomber just over the treetops.

And coming right at them.

"When we build it, you will pay"

Editor,

I wish to comment on two items of public business, one of which was discussed at the 04/10/01 meeting of the Algonquin Highlands Council and the other at an "open house" sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, in co-operation with the municipal council, as reported in The Times editions of October 9 and 15.

The first item concerns the decision of council to not allow the application of Thomas Contracting to locate a sewage lagoon, at this time, in the gravel pit on Highland Road. That such a facility is needed is not in dispute, however, its location, cost and ownership should continue to be a matter of public scrutiny. In reference to the sewage lagoon, Reeve Harrison was quoted as saying, "we won't be giving up on this." Her comment could be taken to indicate at least three possible courses of action:

A. Algonquin Highlands Council will endeavor to work in concert with adjoining municipalities in the building of a lagoon.

B. Algonquin Highlands Council will encourage a private contractor to build and maintain a lagoon as an independent business venture on privately owned land, subject to MOE regulations.

C. Algonquin Highlands Council will, at some future date, reconsider the location of a lagoon at the Highland Road site, with some variation or "partnership" of B above.

As a seasonal resident of over 30 years, Intuition tells me that we have not seen the last of option C, and Highland Road residents and others nearby should keep in mind Bismark's definition of politics as being — "the art of the possible", because given the past history of some previous Stanhope councils, the advocacy of almost anything is possible.

Item two has to do with the proposed construction cross-wind runway at the Stanhope Airport, the cost of which is estimated to be in excess of two million dollars. The residents of Beech and Maple Lakes are speaking for all of us in raising the issues of privacy and noise pollution, which will inevitably follow this expensive venture in civic progress.

The manager of the airport was quoted as saying, "if you build it, they will come," — Times 15/10/01. One wonders if this was the same reasoning that led to the creation of an industrial park in Minden, but which, to date, no industry has come. The building that was located in Haliburton Village to assemble aircraft kits is now a funeral home and there is one small business located near the airport, which appears to be little more than a cottage industry.

The real meaning of this cliché when spoken by a public employee is "when we build it you will pay." And we will pay in a currency measured not only in dollars and cents, but in the further environmental degradation of North West Haliburton — "A Natural Work of Art."

James Stevenson

Little Hawk Lake and Goderich, Ontario

Editor's notes: For clarification, contractor Keith Thomas withdrew his participation in the development of the Highland Road site as a septage lagoon and two businesses are confirmed at the Minden Business Park and a third business is currently in negotiation with Minden Hills council for the purchase of property.

Learn to listen as well as you talk!

Editor,

I have a story I'm sure that a few people can relate to on some level! I was one of few that was not happy and content in my marriage. I could always think of something that made me unhappy.

At the beginning of this year, I met a man I left my husband for. We legally separated and I moved into my own apartment. The man I met wine and dined me and I thought this lifestyle was just great.

But, then something happened. I got ill and couldn't work for a while. This man that I thought was so perfect to me never asked if he could help in any way. I had to give up my apartment and the life I thought I wanted and was so great.

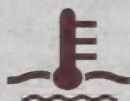

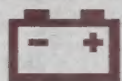

But, the one man I tossed out of my life was the one who stood beside me in that time of need was my husband. I can't revise the wrong choice I made in my life at that time, but only work on making things right. Yes, we do still have issues, but if you have to work through them.

Life is what we want it to be and like children, adults make mistakes too. But, it takes a real adult to admit to them.

We all know how to talk, but we need to learn how to listen.

I would like to publicly thank my husband for truly loving me.

What the well-dressed county councillors will be wearing

by Cathy Olliffe

You may not see this information on Fashion Television, but here's the latest on what the well-dressed county councillors could be wearing this season: sportscoats.

Dysart's deputy reeve, Bill Davis, stood up at the end of county council's Oct. 24 meeting to say he'd like to look into the possibility of purchasing a sports jacket with the county logo on it. He'd pay for it out of his own pocket, of course, but with the new millennium and the newly amalgamated county council, he thought it would be appropriate to have a new sports jacket to wear out and about.

Other councillors have had similar jackets in the past, including Davis, who took a bit of good-natured ribbing about how his old jackets have shrunk over the years.

All the councillors thought it would be a good idea to look into, including Algonquin Highlands reeve Eleanor Harrison who pointed out that not all the councillors are sportscoats-wearing men. But then she thought that she might be able to wear one too.

It's well known in municipal circles that Harrison is partial to the colour green and Davis mentioned that green might be a good colour to choose.

The whole subject of sportscoats came up after County CAO Gary King brought up the idea of allowing county employees to buy golf shirts and windbreakers with the county logo on them.

"They're only 20 bucks and they're kind of handy in the summertime," King said. "I'm trying to do this as a morale booster for the staff and improve the image of the county as well."

He mentioned that it might be an idea for staff to wear their county clothes on casual Fridays. King said he'd dig up some information about sportscoats (cost, colours) from the company that will supply the golfshirts and windbreakers.

Kashagawigamog resident appeals Williams Landing project

The Township of Minden Hills was served with a notice of appeal to the Ontario Municipal Board regarding the Williams Landing proposal on Lake Kashagawigamog. The notice was delivered to the Minden Hills municipal office Friday afternoon by Howard Lee, one of the most vocal opponents of the proposed projects to build 18 time share cottages on the Gay Venture property on the South Kashagawigamog Lake Road.

Minden Hills Reeve Ross Rigney said he wasn't sure what the implications would be regarding the appeal. He assumed the appeal would delay the process until OMB officials have time to review the appeal and decide whether or not it merits scheduling a hearing.

In the meantime, he said, the municipality will continue the process of approving the site plan.

Algonquin Highlands replaces board of management

by Cathy Olliffe

The Township of Algonquin Highlands' board of management has a new name and a new function.

Before the municipalities of Stanhope and Sherborne et al were amalgamated in January of this year, Stanhope had a volunteer committee of council called the board of management that looked after the running of things, in particular parks, recreation, municipal buildings and community halls.

Since that time, Algonquin Highlands hired a public works superintendent, Brian Whetstone, and there has been some overlapping of duties between the board and the PWS. As councillor Tom Gardner pointed out, the establishing by-law for the board read just like Whetstone's job description.

For example, Club 35 – the small community centre at Halls Lake – has been running out of water almost every time somebody rents it. But instead of being able to just go ahead and deal with the problem, Whetstone has to go through the board of management.

"It gives him an extra board to go through in order to get things done," Reeve Eleanor Harrison said at the Nov. 1 meeting of council. "And I think, when that happens, you lose time – valuable time – to get things done."

Recently the reeve spoke with board members, who have a great deal of experience in knowing who to contact and how to get things done. She said they would have a good role to play in an advisory position and suggested the board be turned into a special projects advisory committee designed to tackle specific projects, getting questions answered and groundwork done before the projects are turned over to Whetstone or council.

There are already several projects council would like to see the new committee take on. The historic log chute, which is still waiting to see if it is eligible for funding, would need the expertise of the committee to get restorations done. The fate of the former Dorset public school building could be another project, as could the reconstruction of a boat ramp on Little Boshkung Lake.

"They could take [the boat ramp project] and run with it. Find out how much it's going to cost and then turn it over to Brian," Harrison said.

All members of council agreed with the decision, including deputy reeve Don Shortreed. "There are people there [on the board] who have expertise in different things," he said. "But I think they've got to feel like they're doing something or there's no point in being on a committee. There's no use in being a committee if council is not behind them."

Councillor Kerry Lock added, "I do think it's a good idea for them to work on these projects and track them down."

Gardner suggested regular meetings, or a budget, wouldn't be necessary – meetings would be held and money contributed as needed.

Councillors agreed to revoke the board's establishment bylaw and operate the special projects advisory committee under policy documents instead of under a bylaw.

"I think they'll be a busy committee," said the reeve.

Whetstone arrived to discuss public works business and he, too, agreed the new committee would be a great idea, especially for projects like the reconstruction of the old boat ramp on Little Boshkung. He said committee members could make the phone calls to the Ministry of Transportation or the Ministry of Natural Resources, get approvals, investigate costs – do all the legwork and then let the public works staff do the actual work.

But he does want to be kept abreast of what the committee does. In the case of the boat ramp, he would also want Clayton Cameron, public works superintendent for Minden Hills, to be kept informed because the ramp practically straddles both municipalities. Traditionally, Minden and Stanhope have shared costs on such projects 50/50.

As for the water problems at Club 35, Whetstone will be trying to get the situation resolved as soon as possible because the hall is booked in November.

PeeWees record 6-1-1 after Newcastle win

Highland Storm 4, Newcastle 1

Newcastle's PeeWee A hockey team traveled to Minden on October 28 for the much anticipated rematch of these two strong clubs.

Both teams came out skating for this one and the first seven minutes of the game featured aggressive forechecking and close checking by both sides. Scott Lewis opened the scoring for the Storm midway through the first period with his patented wrist shot from the slot buried over the goalie's shoulder. Assists went to Jeff Burk and Gavin Hicks.

That slim 1-0 lead held well into the second period. The Storm players held the edge in play as a result of high-energy forechecking but could not capitalize on their chances. Newcastle would break out every once in a while and create a scoring chance but Storm goalie Ian Sachs held them at bay.

Justin McKelvey gave the Storm some breathing room late in the second period with Hicks and Adam Sisson assisting. Newcastle made it a one goal game again early in the third but the Storm put things away with two quick goals shortly thereafter. Cody Mills rapped a rebound home after some good work by Jordan Joanu and Gavin Hicks and Lewis popped in his second of the game after taking a feed from Sisson.

After eight regular season games the Storm's record is a sparkling 6-1-1 and the team sports a stingy goals against average of only 1.50 goals per game.

With a competitive home tournament looming and a tough home and home series versus Woodville coming shortly, the Storm will be put to the test in the days to come.

Atom Bs rebound with 6-4 win against Omemee

by Sherrill Sherwood

Although this reporter missed the October 27th Highland Storm Atom B game in Ops, reliable sources have relayed that the Storm played a solid game against the Ops A team.

Highlands Storm's defense and goalie kept the game a close 2-0 score in Ops favour as the offense tried to break through the opposition's thick defense and alert goaltender.

On home turf on October 28 against Omemee, Highland took a 2-0 lead in the first period. Alex Lopez's deep digging in the corners and shots out to the Storm offense showed up as an assist to Jordan Dick's goal in that period.

Omeme was also stymied by Daniel Walker and Tanner Warburton's defensive hustle. Daniel Langpohl was helped out on the Storm's fifth goal by line-mates Cole Scheffee and Brady Yavis.

The Friday Night Mixed Curling League at the Minden Curling Club has been resurrected after a year's hiatus. Last year, too few curlers signed up for the Friday Night competitions to form a league, so those who did register were combined with the Thursday Night Mixed League. This season, enough interest was shown to form six teams. The action above is from this past Friday evening.

ASES co-ed soccer team makes strong debut in new league play

The Junior Co-Ed soccer tournament in Haliburton at J.D. Hodgson Elementary School on October 18 saw the ASES squad lose a couple of squeakers and tie one.

The opener for the ASES team of Grade 4, 5 and 6 players was against the host school. The result was a 2-2 tie, with Brady Hicks and Heather Wilkins scoring the Minden goals.

Game two saw Dan Goodwin score for ASES in a 2-1 loss to Bobcaygeon.

Minden's final game ended with Fenelon Falls in front by a 2-0 count.

The Juniors are playing in a new division of four teams, including Haliburton, Bobcaygeon and Fenelon Falls.

Both Minden and Haliburton were new to the league this season, while the other two teams have some experience in that level of competition.

HHSS field hockey teams enjoy a phenomenal season

by Jerry Grozelle

The girls field hockey teams from Haliburton Highlands Secondary School had a phenomenal season this year. The Junior team won the Kawartha title, winning all three games of the round robin championship tournament against teams from Peterborough. The Red Hawks scored seven goals in the three games while holding the opposition scoreless in all three games.

The Red Hawks opened the tournament with a 2-0 win over Adam Scott Collegiate, followed by defeating Holy Cross by the same 2-0 score and rounded out the championship charge with a 3-0 victory over Saint Peter's Secondary School.

The strong play of the HHSS forwards and midfielders, the goalkeeper hardly saw any action.

Liane Dron coached the Junior team and Emma Thurley was the staff advisor.

Seniors undefeated until Kawartha

The Senior HHSS field hockey team was undefeated in regular season play. The Red Hawks dominated their first game over Holy Cross, recording a 6-0 victory. St. Pete's was the next to bow to the Red Hawk team, by a 2-0 score. Adam Scott managed to keep the Red Hawks to one goal, but it was enough for the HHSS girls to earn their third consecutive win.

The Kawartha Qualifier saw the Red Hawks continue their winning streak, downing PCVS and St. Pete's.

In the Kawartha championships, the Red Hawks downed Holy Cross 3-1 and St. Pete's 1-0 before meeting Adam Scott. At the end of regulation time against Adam Scott, the score was tied at 2-2. Nicki Sisco and Caley Sisson scored the HHSS goals.

The Red Hawks were edged in penalty strokes (a shoot-out) to finish in second place at Kawartha.

The second place finish gave the HHSS girls a berth in the COSSA Championship, where they were matched up against the defending OFSAA champion Bancroft team. Bancroft came out on top in that encounter by a 4-0 score.

"The season was awesome," said Senior coach Tracy Hubbert.

DARREN LUM/Staff

In the championship game for the Kawartha title, HHSS's senior field hockey team pushed their way to a close second place finish, earning them a berth at COSSA where they came against a dominant team from Minden. Coach Traci Hubbert says the team had "an awesome season."

ASES boys soccer team wins bronze as season ends

by Jerry Grozelle

The Senior Boys soccer team from Archie Stouffer Elementary School finished the tournament in Fenelon Falls on October 18 in a three-way tie for second place. The ensuing shoot-out saw Bobcaygeon capture second place, leaving ASES in third overall.

Minden coach Dan LaPierre was pleased with his team's performance. With one win and two close losses, the ASES boys gave LaPierre reason to be proud.

Their opening game saw the ASES boys end the game in a shoot-out with JD Hodgson Elementary School of Haliburton after a 1-1 tie in regulation time. Minden outscored Haliburton 2-0 in the shootout to record the 3-1 win.

ASES goalie Kyle Maughan not only played a strong game in net, he also scored one of his team's goals in the shoot-out. Bennett Young and Travis Walker scored one each in the win.

"They played a really good game," LaPierre said, adding that his team did everything right, dominating the opposition.

The second game for the Minden boys resulted in a heartbreaker 1-0 loss to Bobcaygeon. After dominating Bobcaygeon throughout the game without being rewarded with a goal, the ASES boys had insult added to injury when Bobcaygeon scored on a penalty shot in the dying seconds of the game.

Game three saw ASES give up a 2-0 decision to Langton Public School of Fenelon Falls.

ASES girls give it their all in Minden tournament

The First Senior Girls soccer team of Archie Stouffer Elementary School played well at the tournament held in Minden on October 18. A dozen of the best Grade 7 and 8 girls soccer players gave it all they had to represent ASES well.

The ASES girls played against Gooderham in their first game, coming up on the short end of the 1-0 score. The Gooderham goal was scored in the second half on a penalty shot.

Natasha McGann and Janelle Campbell had some good scoring chances but could not connect.

Game two for ASES was against Lindsay. The result was a 2-0 win for the Lindsay squad. Stephanie Mackenzie, Natasha McGann and Brittney Hicks had a few scoring opportunities, but were denied by the Lindsay goalkeeper.

The Minden defensive players, Sherri Walker, Terri-Lyn Cox and Sara Cox played a strong game.

The ASES team tangled with Haliburton in Minden's third game. The ASES girls played a strong game to edge Haliburton 1-0.

Natasha McGann, who is new to ASES this year, paced the attack in the first half, but in spite of the strong offensive play the Minden girls were held scoreless. McGann connected in the second half with what proved to be the game winner.

Kelly Cowan recorded the shutout in the ASES net.

Lorie Reddering coached the Senior girls in the absence of usual coach Dan LaPierre, who was coaching the boys in the tournament.

Algonquin Highlands briefs

Council supports Mel Lastman's bid for tax holiday

by Cathy Olliffe

Mel's support."

The following are briefs from the Nov. 1 council meeting of Algonquin Highlands.

Who wouldn't want a tax holiday in Ontario?

That's the question Algonquin Highland councillors threw back at a request from Mel Lastman, mayor of Toronto, to lobby the federal and provincial government to give shoppers a tax holiday in time for Christmas shopping. The City of Toronto had agreed with Lastman's suggestion and was looking for support from other municipalities throughout the province. His logic was such a holiday would boost consumer spending and, in turn, the economy.

Lastman wants to see one day with no tax on clothing below $75 per item and school supplies valued at less than $20 (including Canadian books).

"It's not going to happen," Councillor Jim Hicks said, "but I have no problem with it."

Reeve Eleanor Harrison agreed. "I guess it's one of those motherhood and apple pie issues, even if it doesn't come to fruition."

Besides, she added, it wouldn't hurt to support Lastman's recommendation because "you never know when we'll need

Hunt camp questions

The township received a letter from Gord Martin of the Ministry of Natural Resources asking for more information about municipal road allowance property near a hunt club on Part Lot 10 and 11, Concession 8 and 9 in the former Livingstone Township.

The MNR is in the process of selling off hunt club properties that are on Crown Land and currently being leased by hunters. During the recent moose hunt, two of the hunters who lease the property in question came into the municipal office and said they would be interested in purchasing the camp as long as there are no extra costs involved. But as Deputy-reeve Don Shortreed pointed out, there would be extra costs because the camp building is practically sitting on County Road 12 ("It goes right by their front door.") and there's a question of road allowances and setbacks.

Also, as Harrison explained, the County of Haliburton would also likely have to comment before any deal could be done.

Christmas Social

It's not being called a Christmas Party now, it's being called a Christmas Social

CATHY OLLIFFE/Staff

Council signed off on the paperwork from the Anglican Church, giving the Friends of St. Stephen's Church ownership of the church building. The township will own and maintain the church cemetery.

and it will likely be held Sunday Dec. 2, 1-4 p.m., at the Dorset Rec Centre.

There has been a fair bit of debate about how the newly amalgamated Township of Algonquin Highlands should handle Christmas. Over the years the former Stanhope Township had held a Christmas party, complete with dinner and a dance, as a way of thanking the many volunteers who work so hard on various committees of council.

This year, with the new township being twice the size of the old one, there would be 300 people or more who would be invited. In other meetings, the reeve said it might cost the township up to $10,000 to pay for such an event.

There's also the problem of finding a hall big enough to host that many people. In Algonquin Highlands, the only place big enough is the Lions Camp Dorset and if the weather's bad, many people from the south end wouldn't be able to attend.

"I still have reservations that a Christmas social will replace what Stanhope used to have," Harrison said. But that being said, she added she would have no problem justifying the expense of hosting a full, sit-down dinner for everyone. "If you had to pay volunteers for all the work they do it would cost much, much more than a sit-down dinner," she said.

Councillor Kerry Lock had investigated the possibility of having an afternoon open house at the Dorset Rec Centre with Lifeline, an organization that turns all profits back into the community, catering a big homemade buffet with sandwiches, veggie trays, treats, coffee and tea. She said it would cost $8 a person – under $3,000 if everyone showed up.

Christmas social a way to thank volunteers and staff

Harrison said, "I can't totally explain why the Christmas social idea isn't sitting well with me. But I don't think people want to go all the way up to Dorset for a fancy sandwich and a cup of tea with the same people they sit on committees with ... I like Don's idea of having a summer barbecue."

Lock said summer isn't the best time for a do because "it's an extremely busy time for everyone here. We're all running," she said. "And in the spring, we have the whole black fly problem." Lock said having a social "is a good idea. It's a nice gesture."

Councillor Jim Hicks suggested having the BBQ next summer and, this Christmas, sending out a nice card to all the volunteers to say thanks.

Councillor Tom Gardner sighed and said, "We're still no closer [to making a decision], are we?"

The reeve then asked the sole person in the audience (other than the press) what he thought. He said people are already talking about council "lowering" the Christmas do from a dinner to a social, "and now you're talking about lowering it from a social to a card?"

After that comment, Gardner announced, "Let's have a social."

Harrison agreed. "Then we'll bring it back the subject early next year, in February, and talk about an appreciation dinner in October, when the weather is better."

Then there was some debate about having the social tendered or just having Lifeline do it. Harrison said, "We're quite within our rights because they turn the money back into the community."

Gardner said, "There may be a business who would be happy to do it, who would need the business. There are two ways of looking at this."

But because time is running out and, as clerk-administrator Gerald Bain pointed out, there wouldn't be time to tender the event, councillors agreed to let Lifeline do the job.

Young Eagles may be landed

Grade 6 students may not be able to take part in the Young Eagles program at Stanhope Municipal Airport next year because of insurance issues.

Jim Hopkings, member of the airport committee, said the Trillium Lakelands District School Board may not get involved in sending students for a flight and information session at the airport because the board is afraid it isn't covered by insurance in the case of an accident. "The airport is covered," Hopkings said, "but the board feels it isn't."

"That would be a real shame," Hicks said.

Airport comments

According to Hopkings, there were a number of written comments made about possible expansion plans at the airport's Thanksgiving open house and only two of them were negative. "The rest were enthusiastic," he said. "Two people came in with frowns on their faces and went out with smile," he added.

The open house, Harrison said, "was their opportunity to make negative comments ... There are lots of people who don't want to make any changes to Haliburton County but, let's be honest, some changes have to be made as long as they fit in."

On that note, Shortreed talked about a discussion he had with a man who lives elsewhere but visits the area. "He thought things should be the same as they were 50 years ago and everyone here should be on minimum wage. And you know what he does? He's a nuclear scientist."

Tidy landfill

Hey, don't be calling the Hawk Lake landfill site a dump! According to public works superintendent Whetstone, the place is so neat and tidy, "You could eat off the floor."

The same can't be said for the Dorset landfill site, which Shortreed said isn't so tidy.

"I really noticed it on the road tour [Oct. 11]. Yours is so neat and tidy and ours is just deplorable," he said.

CAO Bain said Stanhope "has had some great attendants who really go above and beyond the call of duty."

Playground almost done

If the snow holds off, children will soon be able to take advantage of the new playground equipment being installed at the Algonquin Highlands municipal office on North Shore Rd., just north of Carnarvon.

Men and machines were hard at it last week, installing the colourful new equipment. Whetstone said concrete has to be poured and a minimum 10" of protective surface (sand) laid down before it will be ready to use, but he figured that would be done early this week.

Stanhope was well known for its previous equipment, which was made of wood and resembled a fort, reminiscent of the old TV show, The Forest Rangers. But it wasn't up to modern safety standards and was removed this summer.

Campaign to increase public awareness on dangers of second-hand smoke

Sometimes, being a non-smoker isn't enough to protect your health from the damages of tobacco smoke.

Studies have shown that non-smokers who inhale second-hand smoke in their homes or public places can face the same health risks as those who smoke.

"We have seen repeated evidence that people who are exposed to second-hand smoke are ingesting the same chemicals and carcinogens (cancer-causing agents) as people who smoke," says Leslie Orpana, Director of the Chronic Disease and Injury Prevention department for the Haliburton, Kawartha, pine Ridge District Health Unit. "Too often, non-smokers allow guests or family members to smoke around them or their children and that puts everyone's health at risk."

To help increase people's knowledge of the dangers of second-hand, or environmental tobacco smoke (ETS), the HKPR District Health Unit is launching a multi-media campaign to encourage non-smokers to ask smokers to go outside when they smoke, and for smokers to become more conscious of the health of others.

This advertising campaign is still just one way in which the Health Unit is working to increase public awareness about ETS, says Orpana. Staff from the different offices work with community groups, businesses, health professionals and schools to provide education programs about the dangers of second-hand smoke and smoking. As well, Health Unit staff offer supportive smoking cessation programs for residents ready to kick the habit.

MARTHA PERKINS/Staff

Through various fundraising projects, the South Bob Lake Cottagers' Association raised $500 which was donated to the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Foundation. Accepting the cheque from executive member Jim Murray outside the Minden facility is the Foundation's manager, Dale Walker. Murray says members are well aware that one day they'll be relying on the facility's services and wanted to help pay for the capital costs.

New Garbage and Recycling Collection Program

Starts the Week of November 19, 2001

It's New!

A bag limit and expanded recycling program is being introduced by the City of Kawartha Lakes in order to increase participation in recycling and backyard composting, and to promote reduction and reuse practices, in order to reduce waste going to our Landfills.

Garbage Collection

Beginning November 19th, a two bag limit will be in effect. Each household and commercial establishment is entitled to two untagged standard sized bags or containers of waste collected at curbside each week. Additional bags require a special pre-paid user pay waste tag. Tags are $1.00 each and will be sold in sheets of 5 (for $5.00) and 10 (for $10.00). Tags will be available for purchase at City Service Centres, City Libraries, and at participating retail locations.

UNTAGGED BAGS WILL NOT BE COLLECTED!

Recycling Collection

In addition to your blue box, the City is introducing a green recycling box, called the Paper Box, so that you can recycle in three easy steps.

Step One- Use your Blue Box to recycle all your containers

Put all your recyclable containers inside your blue box. No sorting, bagging or bundling is necessary. In addition to glass bottles, metal cans and #1 and #2 plastic bottles and jugs, you can now recycle #4, #5 and #6 plastics including tubs and lids, Styrofoam containers and trays, clean plastic wrap and plastic grocery bags, aluminum foil and foil trays, empty aerosol cans, empty paint cans, milk and juice cartons and drinking boxes. Your first container collection will take place the week of November 19th.

Step Two- Use the Paper Box to recycle all your paper products

Put all your paper inside your green paper box. No sorting, bagging or bundling is necessary (except for cardboard). You can now recycle frozen food boxes, milk cartons, paper ice cream cartons, toilet paper/paper towel rolls, paper coffee cups, greeting cards, gift wrap, and soft cover and hard cover books. Your first container collection will take place the week of November 26th.

Step Three- Place your Paper Box and Blue Box out on alternating weeks

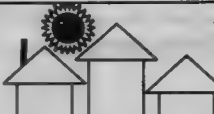

Place your blue box full of containers out for collection during the week of November 19th. Place your green box full of papers out the next week. You will be receiving a map indicating your collection day, and a calendar showing container and paper collection on alternating weeks.

Watch for your "Paper Box"

Your new Paper Box will be delivered between November 12th and December 7th. If you have not received a Paper Box by December 10th, or you are a seasonal resident, you can pick up a box at your local Service Centre. Until you receive your paper box please use a cardboard box or reusable container on your paper weeks.

For further details on the new program watch for your Environmental Services Guide coming during the week of November 12th in the Lindsay This Week.

Black-capped chickadee ruled the roost at Ontario feeders last winter

Last winter, for the 13th year in a row, the Black-capped Chickadee topped Ontario's list of most common feeder visitors, according to Project FeederWatch, a winter-long survey of birds that come to feeders.

"Black-capped Chickadees came to 92% of participating feeders in Ontario," said Becky Whittam, Canadian Coordinator of Project FeederWatch. Whittam admits that this isn't too surprising, as the chickadee has ruled the roost since the survey began in 1988.

Project FeederWatch now has over 16,000 participants across North America. These "FeederWatchers" tell scientists how winter bird populations are growing or declining, and how their continent-wide distributions are changing - information that is crucial to effective bird conservation programs.

Whittam says that Project FeederWatch is always on the lookout for new participants. "There were 2,700 Canadians participating last year, including about 1,300 volunteers from Ontario. There are a lot of feeders in Ontario, so potentially a lot of FeederWatchers. There's no limit to the number of people who can participate."

Participants watch birds at their backyard feeders once every two weeks from November through March. They count the kinds and numbers of birds they see, and record the information on FeederWatch data forms, which are sent to Bird Studies Canada in the spring for analysis. Data can also be entered through the interactive web page.

Project FeederWatch is a joint project of Bird Studies Canada, the Canadian Nature Federation, the Cornell Laboratory of Ornithology and the National Audubon Society.

Participants in Project FeederWatch are asked to become members of Bird Studies Canada, an independent, non-profit research institute studying birds and their habitats for conservation. For an annual $25.00 membership fee, participants receive the FeederWatch instruction booklet, resource manual, data forms, a bird calendar, a beautiful poster of common feeder birds, and four issues of the newsletter BirdWatch Canada. To register, fill out the online form at <http://bsc-eoc.org/national/pfwsign.html>. Alternatively, write to: P.O. Box 160, Port Rowan, Ontario N0E 1M0 (enclose a $25 cheque to Project FeederWatch, e-mail pfw@bsc-eoc.org, or call Bird Studies Canada toll-free at 1-888-448-BIRD (2473).

Razzamataz Kid's Shows! presents new Concert Series

Highlights include A Christmas Carol by Erewhon Theatre on December 2

Get set for another season of fun and excitement as Razzamataz Kid's Shows! sets the stage for its new children's concert series. This year's line-up includes four uniquely imaginative presentations sure to delight young and old alike.

Back by popular demand, Erewhon Theatre returns with the wonderful and familiar old favourite, Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol". The classic and heartwarming tale of Ebenezer Scrooge, set in Victorian times, will include 11 little stars from the audience. A pre-show rehearsal of 40 minutes will prepare the children for their parts in this wonderful adaptation of this enduring tale. Just in time for Christmas, "A Christmas Carol" will be presented on Sunday December 2 at 2 P.M. in the Northern Lights Performing Arts Pavilion.

The next exciting show in this year's concert series features The Smudge Fundaes with their fun-filled show, "Sing For Your Supper". New to Haliburton this year, this talented and energetic trio of musicians presents an innovative and spirited program of music, singing and dancing that encourages lots of audience participation. The Smudge Fundaes will be performing "Sing For Your Supper" on Sunday January 20 at 2:00 P.M. in the Pavilion.

Do you like to dance? The third presentation in this concert series is sure to impress! "Oliver Button Is A Sissy", presented by William Orlowski & Company is an adaptation of the award-winning book written by Tomie de Paola. It is the story of a young boy who "Didn't like to do things that boys are supposed to do". Oliver is teased by the other boys at school until his performance in a talent contest changes their stereotypical thinking. This wonderful presentation features original music by Canadian composer Marek Norman, narration by actress Hermione Gingold and original choreography by William Orlowski. This beautifully performed interpretation emphasizes the importance of self-confidence and a sense of self-worth. "Oliver Button Is A Sissy" is on Sunday February 17 at 2 P.M. in the Pavilion.

Get ready for fun and laughter as Dufflebag Theatre performs "The Emperor's New Clothes". Their unique adaptation of this classic Hans Christian Anderson tale gives new meaning to the idea of a "Birthday Suit!" Emphasis is on audience participation, as several volunteers will be asked to play parts in this wacky presentation. The timing of comedy, combined with the unpredictable excitement of improv, makes for a hilarious combination. The incredibly funny and "Nearly World Famous" Dufflebag Theatre will be appearing in "The Emperor's New Clothes" on Sunday April 7 at 2 P.M. at YMCA Camp Wanakita.

Razzamataz Kid's Shows! Is a non-profit, volunteer-run organization dedicated to bringing high quality live children's entertainment to Haliburton County. The presentation of these outstanding performances has been made possible by grants provided by The Ontario Arts Council, and by these most generous sponsors: The Haliburton Rotary Club, CIBC Haliburton, Curry Motors, Minden Drug Store, YMCA Camp Wanakita, Minden Home Hardware and the Haliburton & District Lion's Club, Minden.

Tickets are $18 each for the four-concert series, and are available at Master's Book Store in Haliburton and at the door. For further information, please call Julie at 457-3414.

Plan Inspection

Bancroft-Minden Forest 2001-2021 Forest Management Plan

The Ministry of Natural Resources (MNR), Bancroft Minden Forest Company Inc. and your Local Citizens Committee wish to advise the public that the 2001-2021 forest management plan for the Bancroft-Minden Forest has been completed and approved.

The forest management plan outlines the long-term strategic direction for the management of the forest, and the details of harvest, renewal and tending operations and access road locations for the first five-year term, 2001 to 2006.

This notice advises the public of a formal opportunity to examine the ministry-approved forest management plan prior to its implementation. The ministry-approved plan will be available for public inspection for a period of 30 days (October 30, 2001 to November 28, 2001) at each of the following locations:

The ministry-approved plan will be available for public inspection at the MNR district offices during non-business hours, by arranging an appointment with the ministry's Bancroft Area Forester, Bruce Fleck at 613-332-3940, ext. 235 or the Minden Area Senior Technician, Mitch Close at 705-286-5204.

A summary of the ministry-approved forest management plan may be obtained from the office of Bancroft Minden Forest Company Inc., the Ministry's Bancroft District Office or the Minden Area Office (see addresses below).

This notice also advises the public of the final opportunity for interested persons to make a request to the Minister of Environment for a "bump-up" of specific proposed forest management activities to the status of an individual environmental assessment under the Environmental Assessment Act. Any such request must be made no later than 30 days after the issuance of this notice. A response to a request will be provided by the Minister of the Environment within 45 days after that 30-day period.

The planning team for the forest management plan consists of the following people:

Jon Orpana, RPF, Plan Author,
Bancroft Minden Forest Company Inc.
Bruce Fleck, RPF, Area Forester,
Ministry of Natural Resources
Brian Vermeersch, Bancroft Area Supervisor,
Ministry of Natural Resources
Kathy Irwin, Bancroft Area Biologist,

Glen Watt, Forest Analyst,
Ministry of Natural Resources
Mike Turner, A/District Planner,
Ministry of Natural Resources

The Ministry of Natural Resources is collecting comments and information regarding this forest management plan under the authority of the Crown Forest Sustainability Act to assist in making decisions and determining further public consultation needs. Comments and opinions will be kept on file for use during the operating terms of the forest management plan, and may be included in documentation which is made available for public review.

Under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (1987), personal information will remain confidential unless prior consent is obtained. However, the Ministry of Natural Resources may use this information as public input on other resource management surveys and projects. For further information regarding this Act, please contact Charmaine Devitt at (613) 332-3940 ext. 228.

For further information on the forest management planning process, information relating to the preparation of this forest management plan, or background information about the Bancroft-Minden Forest, please contact any of the following individuals during normal office hours:

Walking group welcomes new members during morning stroll at Archie Stouffer

by Morris Duff

For the 10th year, winter walkers are welcome in the warm, cosy halls of Archie Stouffer Elementary School. In the past nine years, walkers have covered just under 9,000 kilometres, the equivalent of hiking the Trans-Canada Highway from St. John's, Newfoundland to Victoria, British Columbia and back via the northern route to Edmonton, Alberta.

Seventy-four people, including a woman pushing a baby carriage last year, used their legs to contribute to that total. Also striding along, at least occasionally, were two teachers and a caretaker who came in early, two councillors, a clergyman, a doctor, a few teens and scores of the town's retired people.

Several tell tales of fleeing to the school after suffering nasty falls on icy sidewalks. Fear of meeting a bear on the back roads pushes others into the halls of the school for their exercise.

Three and a half circuits of the school is dead on a mile, so keeping track of distances is easy. In metric, 2.2 circuits equals one kilometre.

Leading walkers over the years have been Morris Duff (1,050 kilometres), the late Vera Bagshaw (944 km), John Elstone (746 km) and Denzil Cox (648 km).

The Haliburton County Chapter of the Heart and Stroke Foundation of Ontario sponsors the walking clubs here and at the high school in Haliburton. Medical experts recommend fast walking to strengthen the heart and fight heart disease. It is also recommended to combat other diseases, including diabetes and emphysema.

Walkers arrive at the school at 7:30 a.m. and are welcome until the children begin to arrive at 8:15 a.m. There is no charge to join the local walking group.

Cadet corps wins two prestigious trophies

Commanding Officer, Captain Dan Collings, is proud to announce the Haliburton 1129 Royal Canadian Army Cadet Corps was the winner of the Eastern Ontario Area 2001 Lord Strathcona Trophy. The award was presented to the cadets of the corps October 23 by Administration Officer, Second Lieutenant Cam McKenzie.

This marks the third time the Haliburton Army Cadet Corps has won the award in its 16-year history. The local corps faced stiff competition from 20 other Army Cadet corps in the Eastern Ontario Region.

The trophy was created by Lord

Strathcona to be awarded annually to a Cadet Corps as the most efficient in its class and perpetuates the solicitude of the donor for patriotism, fitness and discipline in young Canadians. Dedication of the cadets and staff of the Haliburton Army Cadet Corps in training, citizenship, fitness and community spirit was considered in the selection process.

A second honour was presented to the cadets. Their participation in the Drag River Project was recognized by Region Cadet Officer, Lieutenant-Colonel Serge Charboneau. A certificate from the Department of National Defence was awarded to the corps for its role and support in the 2001 Cadets Caring for Canada Campaign.

"Haliburton Legion Branch 129 and the community can be proud of the local cadets for their achievements," Collings said. "These cadets are prime examples of young people demonstrating their pride, leadership and citizenship."

Any boys or girls aged 12 or over who are looking for a challenge and interested in joining the cadets are welcome to attend any Tuesday evening training session from 6:30 to 9 o'clock at the Haliburton Legion.

Residents take advantage of lovely weather during bus tour

Sunshine greeted us this morning, what a nice change to the dull weather we have been experiencing lately. Let us hope it stays around for a little while longer. Sunshine seems to bring out more smiles, don't you think?

This lovely weather has allowed us another bus trip recently. On Sunday, October 28, quite a few residents headed for Kinmount to attend service at the Kinmount Baptist Church. Pastor Dan Millard was very surprised and pleased with the visit. He comes to our home often for our chapel services and it was decided what a nice gesture it would be to join him in service. Many of us are unable to attend a service in the community, so when given the opportunity a few of us jumped at the chance. Those who attended were Blanche Wright, Margaret Emslie, Margaret Foote, Harold Orsborn, Margaret Besse, Hazel Whittaker, Lilian Harrison and Lilian Millar. All reported having a wonderful time, and enjoyed the service very much.

What made it more enjoyable was the fact that the visit coincided with the church's soup and sandwich day. A kind of pot luck luncheon. Those who went took their own pot luck with them. All in all, it was a very pleasant outing. Many thanks go to all those who made the trip possible. All departments had a hand in the organization, which resulted in a very successful outing. Volunteers, Pearl Cowen, Dottie Muirhead, Marion Liscombe and our bus driver Mervin Berry deserve our thanks as well.

What else have we been up to? Lets see — we enjoyed a fun session of bingo with Lilian Harrison and Nellie Ranson pulling in many of the winnings. It seems these two have the luck of the Irish.

We had two tables of euchre this week, with the results being Marj Watt and Harold Orsborn hand in the organization, which resulted in a very successful outing. Volunteers, Pearl Cowen, Dottie Muirhead, Marion Liscombe and our bus driver Mervin Berry deserve our thanks as well.

What else have we been up to? Lets see — we enjoyed a fun session of bingo with Lilian Harrison and Nellie Ranson pulling in many of the winnings. It seems these two have the luck of the Irish. They seem to win quite a bit.

We had two tables of euchre this week, with the results being Marj Watt and Harold Orsborn who wouldn't enjoy that pampering and a lot of us are impatient for our turn.

At our Happy Hour, we provided our own music with Karaoke. We have some great entertainers among us, with Bill Redgrave and Betty Emslie leading the singing, while Lilian Millar was also in great voice.

There was a good crowd out for our Tea Party last week. Our hosts were the folks from the Haliburton Legion. They provided delicious food and great company. Our thanks to them for taking time out of their busy schedules to be with us.

We are saddened to learn of the death of Olive Wray on October 27th, 2001 in her 89th year. Our condolences to her family and friends.

Quite a few of us joined Father Bill Fellion at our chapel service on Tuesday. We thank him for a lovely service and appreciate his dedication. That same day a "coffee break" was held here. Delicious homemade scones were served, with the proceeds going to the Alzheimers Society. This was a province-wide campaign to raise funds for the society. It appears it was quite a success, with $221 being raised. Thanks to all who supported this fund-raiser.

Our report ends with Hallowe'en and what a way to end it. We had oodles and oodles of kids and all kinds of disguises. We always look forward to welcoming the little ones and seeing all the different costumes. It has been reported that we had over 200 visitors. We know that some residents were kept busy earlier bagging the candy, but it was certainly worth it. Not only were we present to give a warm welcome but Muggins the clown was on hand as well as a very interesting witch. It was a lot of fun and we thank the families for bringing their children and allowing us to share in this tradition. We must also remember to thank Joan and Jim Meadows, along with Roy Scott, for helping out. It was a great time!

We welcome our newest resident Cesar Buffel, to our home.

Get well wishes to Gord Kent and Winnie Barnum who are both in the hospital at this time. Our thoughts and prayers are with them. We would also like to say we are glad Hazel Gregory is back from the hospital and hope she is doing well.

Our thought for you this week: "Life is not the wick or the candle - it is the burning."

Notice of Meeting

The Province of Ontario (OMAFRA) has introduced a Rural Economic Development Program to assist economic growth in rural Ontario. The program is intended to promote: a diversified business climate in Ontario; the creation and retention of long term employment; investment in sectors that contribute to economic development; partnerships and alliances; new markets and export development; economic development projects and the development of information, tools and resources to enhance the local economy.

In order to explore this opportunity and to identify potential partnerships, the County Marketing and Economic Diversification Committee will be hosting an open forum on Tuesday, November 20, 2001 at the County Offices, in Minden at 4:30 p.m. At this forum, we would like to meet with groups and individuals who are developing or expanding their business/organization or who have a project in mind that could contribute to the economic growth of Haliburton County.

If you or your organization has a project that meets the criteria established under this program, we invite you to attend this meeting. For further information on the meeting and the rural economic development program, contact Tamara Williams at 286-1333 or email twilbee@county.haliburton.on.ca. This information can also be obtained by visiting the OMAFRA website at www.gov.on.ca/omafra. We would like to encourage potential participants to RSVP to ensure that we may provide suitable seating and refreshments.

Request for Proposals

The Haliburton Connect Committee is inviting proposals for the development of a comprehensive strategy (business plan) to establish and upgrade telecommunication services (applications and infrastructure) in order to enhance access to and improve the effectiveness of existing community services and enhance opportunities to assist and attract business and develop e-commerce. Important components to be incorporated into the strategy will include:

- high speed broadband internet
- electronic service delivery
- on-line services for local business
- enhancement of community portal
- provision of distance learning and video conferencing
- telemedicine
- cable, wireless, telephone services
- access to and provision of geo-spatial data

The completed strategy will be utilized by the successful consultant to prepare an application and associated documents for a Phase 3 Connect Ontario funding application.

Interested individuals/consultants may secure the detailed proposal criteria and information package by contacting Tamara Williams at 705-286-1333 or via email at twilbee@county.haliburton.on.ca.

Sealed proposals will be received to the attention of the:

Haliburton Connect Committee,
c/o County of Haliburton,
11 Newcastle Street - Administration Building,
P.O. Box 399,
Minden, Ontario
K0M 2K0

Attention: Ross Rigney, Chair

until the closing deadline of December 14th, 2001, 4:30 p.m. local time.

The Haliburton Connect Committee reserves the right to refuse any or all proposals, and/or to accept any proposal in whole or in part.

Red Cross supports fire victims – you can too

A house fire recently left five people without a home, and in need of community support. The fire occurred outside of Haliburton on September 20.

Through the Personal Disaster Assistance Program, the Red Cross was able to provide assistance to the people affected by the fire. Red Cross volunteers met with the family to determine their needs, and to offer some assistance to get them back on their feet.

The Red Cross, through the PDA program, offers assistance for those affected by small scale emergencies, taking care of the basics including food, shelter and clothing for the first 72 hours after the occurrence.

The success of this program depends on an initial call from the fire department. "Once the fire fighters on the scene recognize the need for the Red Cross, a call is placed to our dispatcher", says Brenda McCarrell, program chairperson. "We then send our local volunteers to meet with the clients, and help them as appropriate".

This is the Red Cross' second response in Haliburton County. A second volunteer team is being established in the Haliburton/Minden area. Anyone interested in volunteering is asked to call Melanie Flynn at the Peterborough office (705) 745-8222.

There are so many people that Joshua and I would like to thank who helped us after Ron's death. We would like to thank everyone in our community for the cards, their thoughts and for all the food that was brought to the house. My Uncle Brian and Uncle Roger for their support at the hospital and every day after. Ross and Dorothy Walker for their help at the hall after the funeral. All of our family and friends who brought food to the hall for after the funeral. Ron's brother Trevor, sister Cheryl and brother-in-law John for their help with the arrangements. A special thank you to the pallbearers Trevor Sears, Christopher Sears, John Prince, Mark Schoenrock, Christopher Endicott and Greg Perron. A very big thank you to my mom Carol Hill for her love support and guidance "you are my rock". Thank you to Don, Kim, Rachel, Sara and Aly for your help with Joshua. We would like to thank everyone who made a contribution to the Ronald Sears Trust Fund for your generosity, it is greatly appreciated. I know we have forgotten to thank someone, but we do want to thank all our friends and family for their love, support and understanding during this difficult time. Love Kelly & Joshua Sears.

450 IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of DUGAN my parents - Jim August 6, 1998 and Gladys, November 8, 1999.

A parent is someone who is concerned with everything you do
Someone to call upon during good times and bad times
Someone who understands whatever you do
Someone who tells you the truth about yourself
Someone who knows what you are going through at all times
Someone who does not complete with you
Someone who is genuinely happy for you when things go well
Someone who tries to cheer you up when things don't go well
Someone who is an extension of yourself without which you are not complete
A parent sets a good example and gives you moral and spiritual guidelines to live by.
I thank God for giving me loving, caring parents.
Deeply loved and ever remembered
By Yvonne and Family

450 IN MEMORIAM

GREENSLADE - In loving memory of my dear Jim, who passed away November 4, 2000.
*The Maple leaves have fallen
The cold North wind will come
I know Jim's out there somewhere
Looking down on me.
Oh, I will never forget his eyes
I see them everywhere
And those strong arms around me
And all the love we shared.
I go our with friends and try
To have some fun
But I find a darkened corner
I still miss someone (Jim)
He has gone to greater glory
Beyond the setting sun
I know Jim's there for me
Looking over me somewhere.
All my love, Eileen.*
